

Intervention and Referral Services (I&RS) and Section 504

Defining I&RS

Intervention and Referral Services is a state mandated multi-disciplinary team which designs, implements, and monitors intervention plans for students experiencing difficulties with:

- Learning
- Behavior
- Health

Section 504

Section 504 is a federal civil rights law that protects the rights of students with disabilities. To be eligible for 504 protection a student must have an impairment that substantially limits a major life activity such as walking, seeing, hearing or learning as compared to the average person of the same age. Eligibility for protection under 504 is determined by members of Liberty Corner School's I&RS team.

I&RS Team Members Include:

School Counselor
School Nurse
Principal/Assistant Principal
Classroom Teacher
Member of Child Study Team
